Miriam Alice Miller-Friday (7lb 6oz, 20.5in) was born at home at 11:22am on August 24th surrounded by friends, family and midwives - all of whom were instrumental in the successful, safe birth and we can't thank them enough. We are all doing well (though tired) and adjusting to life as a threesome.

For those who would like to call, rest assured that all phones are turned off except for in the kitchen - so you won't wake us up.

Love,
Nancy

PS There has been some misinformation which has been emailed around by mistake. Miriam was 20.5 inches at birth, and we have returned to our original idea of giving her Miller-Friday as a last name.
